

Received the Dreaded IRS Letter 226J? Need Help?

When you receive an IRS Letter 226J in the mail, it can be a frustrating feeling. Letter 226J is a penalty assessment notice (Employer Shared Responsibility Payment, "ESRP") that essentially notifies you that you failed to comply with the employer mandate of the Affordable Care Act (ACA).

You will have questions like:

- Why Did We Receive IRS Letter 226J?
- Is 226J a Bill We Have to Pay?
- How do I respond to 226J?
- What if We Don't Respond to 226J?

We have the Answers

Not responding to Letter 226J is the absolute wrong thing to do.

The IRS will move forward and you'll now owe the ESRP amount stated in the letter and the IRS will send you a Notice and Demand for Payment. Generally, you have 30 days to respond.

Paying the assessment without investigation and consultation is also the wrong thing to do.

We Can Help You!

We have experience in helping employers analyze the 226J, review their data and ensure a properly supported response is made.

Contact us today to review your options for responding to IRS Letter 226J.

Julie Russman (502) 489.6193 julie@uscky.com

Cia Weickel (502) 489.6195 cia@uscky.com

1700 Eastpoint Parkway • Louisville, KY 40223

Phone (502) 244-1343 • Fax (502) 489-6430